🤝 Stakeholder Communication Guide

How to tailor your message when communicating this project to different audiences.

Audience 1: Your Manager

Their priority: Process quality, team credibility, next steps, client readiness

What to Say

> "I've completed the Vrinda Store 2022 analysis. The work covers 31,047 orders, 7 charts, and 5 prioritised recommendations. I'm ready to present to the client — can we do a quick 10-minute review first?"

Tone

- Professional and ownership-driven
- Proactively flag any limitations or data gaps
- Show you've thought beyond the charts to business actions

Format

- Written summary (this document) OR 10-minute walkthrough
- Don't oversell — let the work and clarity speak for itself

Key Messages

1. Work is complete and documented
2. Findings are data-backed and defensible
3. You've prepared for client questions
4. You have a clear presentation plan

Audience 2: The Client (Vrinda Store)

Their priority: Revenue growth, customer understanding, 2023 strategy

What to Say

> "Your biggest opportunity in 2023 is to expand your Sets collection, double down on Amazon, and create targeted campaigns for women aged 30–49 in Bengaluru and Hyderabad. The data is very clear on this."

Tone

- Confident and results-oriented
- Translate data into business language — no "pivot tables" or "data cleaning"
- Say "our analysis of 31,000 orders" not "I built a spreadsheet"

Format

- Dashboard visual walk-through (15–20 min)
- Printed / PDF leave-behind document
- Recommendations table with revenue impact estimates

Key Messages

1. ₹2.12 Crore generated — but there's more available
2. Your customer is an Adult Woman, 30–49, in a metro city
3. Sets and Amazon are your two growth levers
4. 5 specific, prioritised actions for 2023

Words That Land With Clients

Instead of...	Say...
"The pivot table shows..."	"Our analysis of 31,000 orders shows..."
"The data was cleaned"	"We worked with your complete 2022 dataset"
"Chart 5 indicates..."	"Your most valuable customer segment is..."
"There's a correlation between..."	"Women in Bengaluru who buy Sets on Amazon are your highest-value customers"
